Position description: Nova School of Business and Economics (Nova SBE), a triple-accredited institution (AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA), announces open-rank positions in Strategy (for the research track and for the teaching track) and Assistant Professor position Entrepreneurship, effective in September 2023. Applicants should have, or be about to complete, a Ph.D. degree in Management, Strategy, Entrepreneurship or another closely related field. Candidates need to demonstrate the capacity to contribute to the development of Nova SBE's research and teaching activities in Strategy, Entrepreneurship, and related areas (such as International Business and Innovation Management). Candidates for the teaching track position should have teaching experience at the university level (Bachelor and Master). Candidates for the research track position should provide evidence of their ability to publish in the leading international peer-reviewed journals.

School description: Nova SBE offers programs in management, economics, and finance at the undergraduate, master, MBA, and doctorate levels. The school provides an international research environment and consistently ranks among the top business schools in Europe. To support the development of a research-oriented career, Nova SBE provides a very balanced teaching workload, compensation competitive with other business schools in Europe, and research-supporting incentives. English is the working language of the school and knowledge of Portuguese is not a requirement. The Lisbon area offers an outstanding combination of relatively low cost of living, exceptional lifestyle, and an extensive set of cultural and leisure opportunities. NovaSBE is committed to promoting gender equality and strongly encourages applications from female candidates. More information about working at NovaSBE can be found HERE

Application details: The application package should be submitted no later than September 15th, 2022, and should include a cover letter, CV, a teaching statement (for the teaching track candidates) or a research statement (for the research track candidates), a job market paper, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three recommendation letters. Applications are to be submitted HERE (Qualtrics form).

Referees can send recommendation letters directly to faculty.recruitment@novasbe.pt

Please contact Roberto Ragozzino (roberto.ragozzino@novasbe.pt) or Ilya Okhmatovskiy (ilya.okhmatovskiy@novasbe.pt) if you have questions about these positions or about Nova SBE. Questions about the application procedure should be directed to Faculty Recruitment Department (faculty.recruitment@novasbe.pt)
