Message from Division Chair

Happy New Year! I hope you all have had a great start to it. It is such an honor to have the opportunity to serve as Division Chair for 2023-2024. I am so pleased to be working with my Executive Committee colleagues (Immediate Past Division Chair Bill Newburry; Division Chair-Elect Nandini Lahiri; Division Program Chair Klaus Meyer; and Division PDW Chair Ilya Cuypers), our ever-hardworking Division Treasurer Malika Richards, and the members of the Division's various committees, to continue the IM Division's tradition of offering its membership an outstanding academic exchange and learning in a friendly and fun environment.

As anticipated at the last Business Meeting, the Executive Committee has worked hard to review and update the IM domain statement of the Division, which I am delighted to inform you has been approved by the AOM Board of Governors. Have a look at it on the last page of this newsletter. In the upcoming week, the revised domain and changes to the Division's bylaws, which were lastly illustrated at the 2023 annual meeting, will be put to the membership for a final vote of approval. Stay tuned!

We are delighted to welcome Carl Frey as the Chair of the Teaching Committee, Afshin Hamrabadi as Chair of the Doctoral Student Committee, Joao Albino-Pimentel as Chair of the Best Dissertation Award Committee.

As in previous years, the Division's Committees have been especially active in organizing a number of thought-provoking webinars on teaching, research and methods. The videos of the committee-led webinars are available on the new Division's YouTube Channel, launched by Alex Settles, the Chair of the Membership Drive Committee. Subscribe to the Channel! (see p. 4 for details).

IM Division Sponsors

The IM Division gratefully acknowledges the generous sponsorships of the following universities and organizations in 2023

Message from Division Chair (Cont'd)

The Division has also expanded its social media presence thanks to Antonina Bauman, the chair of the Communications Committee, who has kept us informed about IM-related developments throughout the year. Follow us on Facebook, LinkedIn and the International Management \(IM\) Community Discussion at Connect@AOM!

Looking ahead, Klaus Meyer and Ilya Cuypers are busy putting together amazing conference and pre-conference programs for AOM 2024. Learn about what they are up to and how you can get involved on p. 3. Assist them in serving as reviewers and deliver your best reviews timely. The Division recognizes top reviewers with Best Reviewer Awards. The work of the Research Award Committee, chaired by Randi Lunnan and your review will be critical in identifying the recipients of the many Best Paper Awards the Division hands over at the annual conference. Check the Division's awards out on pp. 8-12. We are ever-grateful to the generous sponsors of these awards as well as to the sponsors of the Division's Professional Awards (see p. 8 for details). Learn about the 2024 Professional Award recipients, who have been selected by the Professional Award Committee, chaired by Bill Newbury, on pp. 8-12.

The Division has a tradition of nurturing the next generation of international management scholars. So, young and junior scholars, check out the calls for the Division's Consortia (see pp. 5-7) and the Best Dissertation Award (see pp. 15-16)

I look forward to updating you about new Division activities and the 2024 AOM conference in Chicago over the next months!

2024 AOM International Management Division revised domain statement

The general objective of the Division is to promote scholarship and advances in the field of international business, including management in a broad range of both profit and nonprofit organizations. The Division brings together a global community of scholars researching and teaching management themes with a cross-border or cross-cultural dimension, including not only traditional management topics, but also the contribution of management to addressing evolving global social and environmental challenges. Scholarship that focuses on a single country and has no international issues or implications is not within the purview of the IM division. Members of the IM community conduct research on themes such as:

- the cross-border management of operations, including multi-country, multi-unit, strategy formulation and implementation;
- the cross-border differential impact of cultural, social, economic, technological, political, and other institutional forces on strategies, organizational forms, and management practices;
- evolving forms and management practices in cross-border business using physical and virtual channels supporting international business activities;
- the international competitiveness of entrepreneurs, firms, industries, and nations;
- comparative management studies involving two or more countries;
- the impact of multinational enterprises on the societies in which they operate, and their contribution to global challenges such as social inequalities and climate change.

Program Development is Under Way

Thank you to all the colleagues who have offered to contribute to the 2024 conference program of the IM Division of the AOM. By the deadline of January 10, we have received a total of 458 submissions that are now going through the review process. This includes exactly 402 paper submissions, along with 39 proposals for symposia and 17 proposals for professional development workshops.

I have already noted some very thought-provoking symposia proposals, and interesting new perspectives on teaching international management. Aligned with the conference theme “Innovating for the Future: Policy, Purpose, and Organizations”, I see a substantial number of submissions exploring international dimensions of innovations, and of various dimensions of managerial responsibility. In terms of keywords, I also see an increasing interest in the political dimension of international business as reflected in keywords such as geopolitics, political conflicts, and de-globalization. Also, the digital economy is likely to feature prominently within the IM Division program at AOM 2024.

A total of 378 scholars have signed up to review papers, and will have received their reviewing assignments in mid-January. Your contribution as a reviewer is highly valued not only by authors aiming to further develop their work, but by myself and my team who will be putting together the program. Based on the reviewer feedback, we will also be developing shortlists for the IM Division’s paper awards, which will then be assessed by the research awards committee. We recently recorded a webinar that you may find helpful as you prepare your reviews: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O2lqKdiWTvM>.

If you signed up to review, but did not yet receive an invitation to review, please check your spam folder or log into <https://reviewer.aom.org/>. Again thank to all your contributions, and I look forward to meeting many of you in person in Chicago in August.

The AOM IM Division Membership Drive Committee, chaired by Alex Settles and composed by Patricio Duran, Hyun-Jung Lee, Sumit K. Kundu, Rui Torres de Oliveira, Alfred Presbitero, and Elizabeth Rose, will organize membership activities at the 2024 AOM Annual Meeting to attract and retain division members. We plan to attend the New Doctoral Student Consortium \(NDSC\) session and other events to encourage AOM members to join the IM Division. The committee members for 2024 are.

In the fall of 2023, the AOM IM Division Membership Drive Committee organized three webinars.

In November, the committee worked with Joao Albino-Pimentel, the Chair of the Best Dissertation Award Committee, to promote the IM Division D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Northeastern University Award for the Best Dissertation in International Management. The IM Division Best Dissertation Award webinar brought together the previous year's award nominees who shared their experiences and to encourage doctoral students to submit their dissertations for this year's award.

Noman Shaheer, Chair of the Research Method Committee, together with Min Jung Kim, a new committee member, organized the second webinar on the topic of Industry 4.0. The topic was very popular with members, with over 350 registered for the webinar and over 150 attending.

The third webinar organized by the MDC was the annual webinar on Reviewing for the AOM Annual Meeting and Journals, which was organized by Klaus Meyer, IM Division Program Chair, and featured Becky Reuber and Grazia Santangelo.

In the summer of 2024, the MDC plans to hold a webinar on the 2024 AOM program.

The MDC has launched a YouTube channel to host the videos of the webinars that are organized by the Division's committees. The channel can be found at <https://www.youtube.com/@AOMIMDivison> and allows members greater access to content.

2024 Call for Applications

The International Management (IM) Division is offering a Doctoral Student Consortium (DSC) at this year's Annual Meeting of the Academy of Management on Sunday, August 11, 2024. Accepted participants will be considered for an IM Division scholarship covering their AOM conference registration fee. Places in the DSC are limited; the deadline to apply is May 31, 2024.

The Doctoral Student Consortium is designed for current PhD students, who have an interest in international management, as either their primary or secondary field of inquiry. We welcome participants from all stages of the PhD program

Confirmed panelists include (in alphabetical order):

Ruth Aguilera, Northeastern University
Timothy Devinney, University of Manchester
Jonathan Doh, Villanova University
Sinziana Dorobantu, New York University
Liena Kano, University of Calgary
J.T. Li, Hong Kong University of Science and Technology
Yong Li, University of Nevada, Las Vegas
Jane Lu, City University of Hong Kong
Mike Peng, University of Texas at Dallas
Elizabeth Rose, Indian Institute of Management Udaipur
Grazia Santangelo, Copenhagen Business School
Rosalie L. Tung, Simon Fraser University
Ari Van Assche, HEC Montreal
Edward Zajac, Northwestern University
Minyuan Zhao, Washington University in St. Louis

The Consortium offers structured and informal discussion between participants and faculty panelists on research, job opportunities, publishing, and early-stage career strategies. A substantial amount of time is also set-aside for dissertation development, featuring one-on-one feedback from faculty in small groups. This is an excellent opportunity to receive valuable feedback on your work, as well as a chance to network and get to know your fellow doctoral students and leading scholars in the International Management field. Participants will also be invited to a "Meet-the-Editors" session later on the same day.

To apply, please submit your application materials to 2024 Doctoral Student Consortium files upload by May 31, 2024. You can [contact the DSC Co-Chairs Jing Li \(\[jingli@sfu.ca\]\(mailto:jingli@sfu.ca\)\) or Charlie Stevens \(\[charles.stevens@rutgers.edu\]\(mailto:charles.stevens@rutgers.edu\)\)](#) should you have any questions. We will inform all applicants about their admission to the DSC by June 28, 2024.

Your application should include the following in a single pdf file:

1-page nomination letter from your advisor/chair;
A description of your dissertation idea, including your research question, relevant literature, research design, and methods (Maximum 3 pages); and
Curriculum Vitae (maximum 2 pages)

2024 Call for Applications

The IM Division will conduct a Paper Development (PD) at the forthcoming 2024 Annual Meeting of the Academy of Management in Chicago, USA (the event is most likely to take place on Sunday, August 11th, 2024 and exact timing to be announced when the program is finalized).

This is the 10th year when the IM Division has been organizing the Paper Development Consortium (PD) at the AOM Annual Meeting. As one of the three consortia organized by the IM Division, this PD aims to provide junior scholars with developmental and constructive feedback from a panel of seasoned and current editors at top tier management and international management journals on crafting and publishing international management research. The PD starts with a panel discussion of crafting and publishing research with both local relevance and “global” impact, followed by a roundtable session in which each participant will receive paper feedback from designated panel members and other participants. The panelists include:

- Jonathan Doh (Villanova University), Consulting Editor, Journal of International Business Studies; General Editor (2020-2022), Journal of Management Studies
- Kenneth Huang (National University of Singapore), Senior Editor, Management and Organization Review; former Associate Editor at Organization Science (for a special issue)
- Dana B. Minbaeva (King's College London), Associate Editor, Academy of Management Review
- Sun-Hyun Park (Seoul National University), Associate Editor, Strategic Management Journal
- Gurneeta Vasudeva (University of Minnesota), Associate Editor (2020-2022), Academy of Management Journal
- Tammar B. Zilber (Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Associate Editor (2020-2022), Academy of Management Journal

While priority will be given to junior scholars, all are welcome to apply. Applicants from other fields trying to internationalize their research are also welcome. All paper submissions must fit the International Management mandate (available at: <https://im.aom.org/>).

We also encourage participants in the Paper Development Consortium to participate in the “Meet-the-Editors” session. This session will provide an invaluable opportunity to hear directly from Editors at some of the leading journals in the field of International Management.

Submission instructions: Submit the following to Daphne W. Yiu (daphneyiu@smu.edu.sg) and Pei Sun (pei.sun@manchester.ac.uk) in a single pdf file by May 31, 2024:

CV (max 2 pages).

A full manuscript that can be a newly completed paper ready for journal submission or one that has recently been through a review process. Please follow the AOM paper submission guideline.

An indication of 2 faculty mentors from the above list who fit with the paper topic the most.

Participants will be notified about the acceptance of their submissions by June 16, 2024. Please note that participants are required to register for the AOM conference in order to participate in this PDC. Questions? Please contact the organizers: Daphne W. Yiu (daphneyiu@smu.edu.sg) and Pei Sun (pei.sun@manchester.ac.uk)

Call for Applications

The International Management (IM) Division will hold its annual Junior Faculty Consortium (JFC), during this year's Academy of Management Meeting in Chicago. This half-day, in-person event will take place on Sunday, August 11th, 2024. The deadline to apply is Monday, 10th June 2024.

The IM Division JFC is designed for junior and early career scholars who have defended their dissertations in the last 1-5 years and are building their academic careers in the IM field. The consortium provides a unique opportunity for junior faculty to engage in conversations around critical issues of their careers, research, publishing, teaching and service with leading IM scholars from around the world and with their peers.

The consortium will include a combination of structured panels on multiple themes, roundtable discussions on pressing issues, and informal interactions. Notably, we will discuss the challenges and opportunities of an academic career in IM, how to prepare for tenure or confirmation, the steps to building a scholarly reputation, how to develop a research/publishing strategy for a more significant impact on the field, and how to maintain a healthy balance between research, teaching, and service. The JFC will conclude with a "Meet-the-Editors" session, which will provide an invaluable opportunity to hear directly from Editors of some of the leading journals in the IM field.

The 2024 IM Division JFC will be chaired by Joao Albino-Pimentel (University of South Carolina) and Srividya Jandhyala (ESSEC).

The faculty mentors include:

We are pleased to announce that Dr. Yadong Luo of University of Miami has been selected as the 2024 IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar! Please join us during the AOM Meeting for a special session where Dr. Luo's work will be recognized, tentatively scheduled for Sunday, August 6. More details will be provided closer to the conference dates.

Dr. Yadong Luo holds the Emery Findley Distinguished Chair and is Professor of Management at the University of Miami Herbert Business School. He is a fellow of the Academy of Management (AOM) and the Academy of International Business (AIB).

With a prolific output, Dr. Luo has authored over 20 books and more than 200 research articles, including over 60 in UT-Dallas Journals-listed publications. His work spans a broad range of subjects, from global strategy and cooperative alliances to cross-cultural management and emerging market businesses. Dr. Luo's outstanding contributions to international management have garnered widespread recognition, establishing him as one of the leading scholars in international management, according to various rankings. His numerous honors include the JIBS 50th Anniversary Gold Medal, the AOM Educator Award, the University of Miami's Lifetime Achievement Award, and the Axiom Gold Medal for his recent book "The Digital Multinationals" (MIT, 2022). His work has significantly enhanced the understanding of various cutting-edge topics in international business, such as the internationalization of emerging market firms, global co-opetition, geopolitical risks, and digital globalization. This is further evidenced by his impressive H Index of 112 and over 55,800 citations on Google Scholar.

Once again, please join me in congratulating Yadong Luo as the 2024 recipient of the IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award!

We are pleased to announce that Dr. Nakiye Boyacigiller of Sabanci University has been selected as the 2024 IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator! Please join us at the International Management Division Awards & Recognition Session during the 2024 AOM Meeting tentatively scheduled for Monday, August 7 where Dr. Boyacigiller will be recognized. More details will be provided closer to the conference dates.

In 2018, Boyacigiller was appointed as an Emeritus professor by Sabanci University and retired later that year. Boyacigiller was a Professor of International Management and a former Dean of the Sabanci School of Business at Sabanci University. She was elected a Fellow of the Academy of International Business (AIB) in 2007. Prior to joining Sabanci as dean, she was on the faculty of San Jose State University for 17 years.

Dr. Boyacigiller has held leadership positions in several professional and academic organizations including most importantly her roles as President of the AIB (2015-16) and Chair of the International Management Division of the Academy of Management in (1996-97). She has served the AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business) as a member of its Board of Directors and European Advisory Council (2012-2014). In addition, Prof. Boyacigiller has served on the advisory boards of WU (Vienna University of Economics and Management), CIIM, the Cyprus International Institute of Management and GIBS of the University of Pretoria in South Africa. She served two terms on the board of Turkish Philanthropy Funds and continues to support their work.

She is the proud mother of two daughters and is blessed with two granddaughters.

Please join us at the International Management Division Awards & Recognition Session during the 2024 AOM Meeting tentatively scheduled for Monday, August 7 where Dr. Rose will be recognized. More details will be provided closer to the conference dates.

Elizabeth L. Rose is Research Chair Professor of Business Policy and Strategy at the Indian Institute of Management Udaipur, having previously worked in New Zealand, the US, the UK, and Finland. Beth's research – at the intersection of international business, international entrepreneurship, and strategy – addresses various aspects of how firms internationalize and compete across borders. She is especially interested in the internationalization activities of firms from emerging markets.

Beth is a Fellow of the Academy of International Business (AIB) and the Australia and New Zealand International Business Academy (ANZIBA). She was named the 2019 Woman of the Year by the Women of the AIB (WAIB).

Beth has held leadership roles in several academic professional organizations, including the AIB, the Strategic Management Society, and the Academy of Management. These roles have given her the opportunity to work with academic associations, especially in Africa and South Asia, where she has enjoyed engaging with junior scholars to develop and extend their research capabilities.

Currently, Beth is Co-Editor-in-Chief of Academy of Management Collections, a member of the senior editorial team of Journal of International Business Studies, and the Associate Editor of AIB Insights. She serves as Vice President of the Board of the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management (EIASM).

Jackson G. Lu is the Sloan School Career Development Associate Professor at the MIT Sloan School of Management. He received his PhD from Columbia Business School in 2018. He currently serves as a Senior Editor for Organization Science, a Senior Editor for Management and Organization Review, and an Associate Editor for Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Jackson studies culture and globalization through two distinctive research streams. His first research stream examines the “Bamboo Ceiling” experienced by Asians despite their educational and economic achievements in the United States. His second research stream elucidates how multicultural experiences (e.g., working abroad, intercultural relationships) shape key organizational outcomes, including leadership, creativity, and ethics.

Jackson has published in top general science journals (Nature Human Behaviour, Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences), management journals (Journal of Applied Psychology, Organizational Behavior and Human Decision Processes, Organization Science), and psychology journals (Annual Review of Psychology, Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, Psychological Science). His research has been featured in over 300 media outlets (e.g., BBC, The Economist, The Financial Times, Harvard Business Review, NPR, The Boston Globe, The New York Times, The Washington Post). He was recognized as one of the 40 Best Business School Professors Under 40 by Poets & Quants.

The IM Division D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Northeastern University Award for the Best Dissertation in International Management is presented to the best dissertation submitted to the International Management Division. A plaque is awarded to the author of the winning dissertation.

Eligibility Criteria

- The award competition is open to all Ph.D. and D.B.A. students who have successfully completed their dissertations during the 2023 calendar year.
- Dissertations submitted to other competitions are eligible.
- All applicants must be members of the IM Division. If you would like to submit your dissertation for this award but are not yet a member of the IM Division, you can sign up by visiting this link, click on "IM" in the interactive chart, and then click the "Join" button.
- The dissertations must contribute to basic or applied knowledge on topics within the domain statement of the IM Division. These can relate to cross-border or cross-cultural issues that influence individuals, teams, organizations, regions, nations, or the world as a whole. Traditional topics related to multinational enterprises and cross-cultural management are within the IM Division domain (see below), but others such as those related to UN sustainable development goals, social justice, diversity, migration, and the like in an international context also fit the IM Division.

Domain Statement: International Management focuses on content pertaining to the theory, research, and practice of management in various global settings. Major topics include: the cross-border management of operations, including multi-country, multi-unit, strategy formulation and implementation; evolving organizational forms and management practices in cross-border business; the cross-border differential impact of cultural, social, economic, technological, political, and other institutional forces on strategies, organizational forms, and management practices; the international competitiveness of firms, industries, and nations; and comparative management studies involving two or more countries.

Submit your abstract via e-mail to the Best Dissertation Award Committee Chair, Joao Albino-Pimentel: joao.albino-pimentel@moore.sc.edu.
Submit your abstract by 31 January 2024.

Submission Guidelines

Submit electronically a 10-page, double-spaced abstract, with margins of one inch (2.54 cm) on every side and in no smaller than 12-point font. This abstract should include the title of the dissertation, a description of the dissertation's objective, theoretical foundations, relation to prior research, methodology, findings, limitations, and contributions to the field of international management.

- Reference lists are not included within the 10-page limit, but all other text, figures, tables or illustrations are included.

Submit the abstract in PDF format, removing any author identification information.

Within the body of the submission e-mail, but not in the abstract file, please indicate your name, the university you graduated from, your dissertation chair(s), and your month and year of graduation.

- Please write "AOM IM Division Best Dissertation Award Abstract" as the subject header.
- Submit your abstract via e-mail to the Best Dissertation Award Committee Chair, Joao Albino-Pimentel: joao.albino-pimentel@moore.sc.edu.
- Submit your abstract by 31 January 2024.

Evaluation Process

- The IM Division Best Dissertation Award Committee will conduct the first round of reviews of the abstract submissions and select three to five finalists based on the quality of their abstracts.
- The finalists will then submit their full dissertations for further review and selection.

Obligations of Finalists

Being selected as a finalist is an honor. Finalists are required to present their dissertations at a specially designed session during the 2024 AOM Annual Meeting. Please submit your abstracts only if you agree with this requirement and agree to attend the division's Business Meeting where the winner will be announced.
